

Presidio Investors Announces New Website Launch Ahead of Its First Anniversary of Independence from The Presidio Group

The newly redesigned site conveys the firm's unique, value-added approach to pursuing exceptional lower middle market opportunities

San Francisco, CA, March 30th, 2017 – Presidio Investors, an independent private equity firm that offers deep expertise in growth-oriented buyouts in the Technology, Media and Telecom (TMT) and Financial Services industries, today announced the launch of its newly revamped website. This launch coincides with the first anniversary of Presidio Investors' stand-alone independence. In 2016, Karl Schade stepped down as CEO of The Presidio Group and spun-out Presidio Investors, to focus on offering the private equity community a firm that uniquely strives to identify exceptional lower middle market opportunities. The newly redesigned website clearly articulates Presidio Investors' industry focus and offers a thoughtful understanding of their process to identify companies where they can add the most value.

Karl Schade, Managing Partner at Presidio Investors, said: "I am overjoyed to be getting back to my private equity roots and focusing full-time with my private equity team on buyouts in the lower-middle market. I believe our new site conveys the depth of expertise this team brings and the passion they have to help business owners not only build their businesses, but build permanent legacies."

"Like Karl, I am excited by the many investment opportunities we are seeing in the lower middle-market. At Presidio Investors, we now have a decade of experience working as a team and adding value to the private equity investments we have led. Going forward, we will capitalize on the many competitive advantages we've developed at Presidio Investors: a hands-on operating approach; best practices derived from the best private equity firms in the world; and a significant value-added network," added Barry Rudolph, Managing Director at Presidio Investors.

Presidio Investors new website is located at www.presidioinvestors.com.

About Presidio Investors

Presidio Investors, an independent private equity firm based in San Francisco, CA, was founded in 2007 to pursue exceptional lower middle market investments. The firm's experienced investment professionals specialize in growth-oriented buyouts in the Technology, Media and Telecom (TMT) and Financial Services industries. The entire Presidio Investors team also has substantial operating experience, and works side-by-side with management teams to help achieve the best possible outcome for all stakeholders. For more information, visit: www.presidioinvestors.com.